Stuff You Might Not Know You Didn't Know...

- The first novel ever written on a typewriter, Tom Sawyer.
- The San Francisco Cable cars are the only mobile National Monuments.
- Half of all Americans live within 50 miles of their birthplace.
- The only food that doesn't spoil is honey.
- Bulletproof vests, fire escapes, windshield wipers and laser printers were all invented by women.

Fireworks?—No, Bicycles and Austin's Latest "Must See"!

Forever Bicycles is made of 1.300 bicycles and definitely best seen in person. This exhibit will make Austin its home for 18 months and it is located at the Waller Delta—74 Trinity across from the Boat-house. The artiset is a Chinese artist and activist Ai Weiwei.

TEXAS FLAG TRIVIA

Many of you know that six different national flags have flown over Texas and we proudly wave those flags for public display. Rarely mentioned was a seventh flag that flew over the Republic of Texas for three years beginning in 1836. The flag was known as the National Standard of Texas or the Burnet flag and symbolized independence. It consisted of one Gold star on a blue field. When Texas became a state on Dec 29, 1845, the national flag, adopted on January 25, 1839, changed to the familiar red, white and blue fields with a white star –the Lone Star flag remains today and its colors represent bravery, purity and loyalty. Wikipedia

Attract what you expect,
Reflect what you desire,
Become what you respect,
Mirror what you admire

“You have to love a nation that celebrates its independence every July 4, not was a parade of guns, tanks, and soldiers who file by the White House in a show of strength and muscle, but with family picnics where kids throw Frisbees, the potato salad gets iffy, and the flies die from happiness. You may think you have over-eaten , but it is patriotism.” Erma Bombeck

More Paraproductians ...

I'm supposed to respect my elders, now it's getting harder for me to find one.

A clear conscience is the sign of a fuzzy memory.

Where there's a will, I want to be in it.

I used to be indecisive. Now I'm not so sure.

We never really grow up; we only learn how to act in public.

The voices in my head may not be real, but they have some good ideas!

Can you tell my birthday is coming up?
